THIEVES FIXING FOR HOUSEKEEPING.—Last week the farm house of Mr. Brown, who lives on the river, six or eight miles below town, was robbed of a larger part of his household goods. Mr. Brown and family were not at home when the thieves landed, and in broad daylight gutted the premises and loaded their skiffs. Among other things, they stole a feather bed, quilts, gun, saddle, and a cooking stove. The thieves then journeyed down the river, and at night camped on the bank some 15 miles below. About daylight a squad of citizens, who were in search of the depredators, ran upon them, and found the goods as described in their possession. They gave their names as John Albany and George Jackson, and the witnesses testify that they acknowledged their guilt when the stolen goods were found in their possession. They were brought to Hickman and an examining trial held before the City Court, which court, after hearing the evidence, held them for trial before the February term of the Circuit Court, and in default of $500 bail, were committed to the county jail.

The Judge Hargis case is now being tried in Louisville.

CONGRESS adjourned Dec. 19 to Jan. 6, for the holidays.

We wouldn't take $1,000 in C. S. bonds for our part of that Maine Re-turning Board count!

The Court of Appeals has decided that a sheriff or his sureties can not urge a bankrupt notice in settlement of debts due the State or General Government.

As the members of the Ohio Legislature now only receive a salary of $600 per annum, it is predicted that the coming session will be short and sweet. Kentucky gives her members $5 per day.

GRANT's mission to Mexico is said to be in the interests of a move looking to an American protectorate over that country or the admission of the twenty seven Mexican States into the American Union.

SUNSET COX says that Tammany will oppose Mr. Tilden as bitterly next year as it has this, if he shall be a candidate; but he does not consider that Mr. Tilden has any chance whatever of getting the nomination.

It is estimated that the southern cotton crop this year will yield at least $80,000,000 more than that of last year. Somebody works in the south, the shot gun stories of the Republicans press to the contrary notwithstanding.

The grand jury of the United States Circuit Court at New York, in a presentment to Judge Bonet, declare that the time has arrived to establish a "national penitentiary" to be used for the confinement of Federal prisoners.

The present Irish situation is the result of hard times, a failure in the European crops, and the refusal of land owners to reduce the rents. The Vatican at Rome has advised prudence on the part of the clergy and people of Ireland.

The Cincinnati Enquirer has come out for Seymour and Hendricks. This would be a strong ticket—but the first gentlemen has declined to permit the use of his name for any office, and the latter has stated that he will not be placed as second on the ticket.

In Massachusetts where women voted for members of the School Commission, reports show that they voted nearly, if not quite, up to their full registration, which in Boston was nearly 1,000. They generally voted early in the day, and came to the polls prepared already with ballots.

THE Legislature of Tennessee, called in extra session by the Governor, assembled in Nashville, Tuesday. The object of the extra session is to take some steps for the "renovation" of Memphis, and take such action as will enable the owners of the M. P. and N. railroad to complete the same.

NEGRO EXODUS TO INDIANA—PE-TERSBURG, VA., Dec. 16.—One hundred colored emigrants from Goldsboro, N. C., arrived here, to day, en route to Washington, from whence they go to Indiana. More will arrive to-morrow, en route West.

NEGRO EXODUS TO KANSAS—ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16.—The negro exodus from Texas to Kansas continues. A considerable number of colored people pass through Dallas, daily, bound to that State. On the other hand, quite a number have returned, stating that they have been deceived concerning Kansas.

MISSISSIPPI LEVEES—The House Committee on the Mississippi Levees, agreed to report to the House a resolution authorizing and directing the committee to make a trip down the Mississippi, about Nov. 10, 1880 for the purpose of gaining more accurate information in regard to subjects within the purview of the committee jurisdiction.

The Ferocious Stewart.
The venerable Senator Hamlin, of Maine, is becoming feeble, and he is liberal in his old age. Mr. Hamlin used to think returning boards were very meritorious institutions when they reversed popular verdicts in Louisiana, Florida and elsewhere, but they do not suit him in Maine. He says he can hardly conceive that the Democrats will undertake to deprive Republicans of the offices to which they have been elected, but if they do, he is in favor of "going to the State House and taking the revolutionists by the nape of the neck and pitching them into the streets," and said he, "I will be one to assist."

Suit Against Jeff Davis.
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—A bill in equity was filed in the United States District Court in behalf of Mrs. Edward Peckham, of Louisiana; Stephen Percy Ellis, of Brooklyn; Mortimer Dahlgren, of St. Louis; sister and brothers of the late Mrs. Sarah Ann Dorsey, against Jefferson Davis. The object of the bill is to have declared null and void the will of Mrs. Dorsey, of January 4, 1878, by which the whole of her estate was bequeathed to Davis. The plaintiffs alleged that they were the legal heirs of the estate. The grounds of amendment of the will are stated to be that previous to the time of writing and signing of the will, Mrs. Dorsey was of sound and disposing mind, being under no undue influence of the defendant; that the motive and object in inducing and controlling the testatrix to make the bequest were under the laws of the land illegal, null and void.

THE MONARCHISTS IN KENTUCKY.
Do they Mean what they say?

The number of people we meet, who profess themselves disgusted with a government by the people and in favor of a monarchy, is astonishing. We verily believe that three out of five of the citizens of Kentucky, in casual conversation, will give utterance to such sentiments. What does it mean? Are our people really in earnest; or, are they deceiving themselves?

We think the latter. Whether they don't mean what they say, or rather don't appreciate the meaning of what they do say. It is just possible that these friends who persuade themselves that they prefer a monarchy to our popular form of government, have permitted their minds to run on the results of elections, in which the people have done those things which they ought not to have done, and refused to do many things which they ought not to have refused, and elated men to office who ought not to have been elected, and defeated those who ought to have been elected, and through such causes worked their minds into what they feel to be a permanent disgust at Republican institutions. While these wrong results are practically and immediately before their eyes, the operations of a monarchial form of government is in the distance, and the present generation far removed from the experience of our forefathers, that its practical evils are lost sight of.

If these dissatisfied citizens could be compelled to practically see and feel the operations of a monarchy a few years, they might realize what the change means, and by comparing the evils under each, be content to fly back to the Republic as did our forefathers.

We often hear people, too, complain of the courts—that the law, as it is administered, often works injustice, and that much of the paraphernalia about courts, court houses, officers and law making is an unnecessary burden upon the people. There may be, and are, doubtless, wrongs inflicted in such matters; but, if to escape the confessed evils, we abolish courts and juries altogether, what would be the result?

During the civil war the result of having no courts, was illustrated to the people. All restraints being removed, who were reported to be good, honest, sometimes rogues, robbers, thieves and murderers. When the courts and law resumed control, these desperadoes gradually disappeared and order and good society was re-established.

The remedy for bad laws, or their unjust operations, is not to abandon all courts, &c., but to struggle for improvement.

So, indeed, in regard to our republican form of government, the remedy is not to swap it for a monarchy, but for each citizen to struggle for its improvement. The errors and excesses, which we, in Kentucky, see and acknowledge, other people will see and acknowledge, and so in time the remedy will come.

The Maine Returning Board.
Some Republicans thought it was the proper thing to count out the democrats in Louisiana and Florida, so, they kept in the forms of law, but now it seems that the Democratic Returning Board in Maine is applying the forms of law in that State, and have counted the Republicans out of their majority in the State Legislature.

A special from August says the Republican majority in both branches of the Legislature has been counted out. The Republican members have been counted down from 90 to 58 and the Democratic counted up from 61 to 73. It is claimed this is done on technicalities and informalities of the returning. The Senate under the count will have a Democratic majority of 9, being larger than the 21 Democratic Senators and 11 Republican.

The Governor and C. and A. count out two Senators from Cumberland, one each from York, Lincoln and Washington, two from Androscoggin. Democrats will have a majority large enough in the House to give a quorum in that it is in the State House to defeat the Southern population in time to affect their representation in Congress when the apportionment is made after the census of 1880. It is a deplorable scheme, and is being carried out with marvelous tact and effectiveness. The plan was revealed to me over a year ago by a Radical statesman but I took little stock in his statement at that time. But subsequent events have convinced me that he knew just what he was talking about, and I will now for the first time, relate subtilty the interview.

It was when the exodus first set in toward Kansas. I asked him why his party did not encourage the exodus and turn the tide into democratic or Southern States, instead of letting them all go to Kansas, where the Republicans had a majority at all times. He said:

That will all come in good time. If we sent them at first into democratic States, the democrats would take the alarm, denounce it as a political movement, and perhaps stop it in its infancy. Besides a negro in Kansas will count as much in making up the apportionment for Congressmen after 1880 as he would in Indiana. The prime object is to decrease the Southern representation in Congress, and increase that of the North. But after awhile we will turn the tide to Indiana where they will answer a double purpose.

Warning to Courier-Journal.
The Courier Journal accounting for its part in the Louisville Grant ovation, has:

Don L. S. Trimble in Mexico—The Products Custom House, '79.

To the Editors Courier-Journal.

Within the last two weeks the Courier Journal has had at its power to give General Grant once more in the Presidential election. Because it has refused to do what would make General Grant's election a certainty, it is shamed by those who affect an sympathy to Grant. If Grant be indeed the head of a conspiracy of corporations, capitalists and ringlers, who are plotting a third term, they could have settled the question, and saved money, by giving us a hundred thousand dollars apiece for just ten articles assailing Grant the ten days preceding his arrival in Louisville, with a contingency of half a million if we succeeded in getting up a mob. The man, who has been honored round the world, has only to be reviled and impeded the first time he sets his foot upon Southern soil, in the character of a guest, to unite the North. It would have been a second spring on Sumter. But this is expected by the idiots who are abusing the Courier Journal, because it tried Gen. Grant like a gentleman, would, if they are not knaves, have had the Courier Journal do.

In some respects this sounds very like a pilot who claims the gratitude of all the passengers for neglecting a splendid opportunity to sink a steamer, or the engineer who runs his passenger train through when he could have ditched it anywhere along the route. The truth is, the people of Kentucky understand and appreciate the hospitality and honest purposes which actuated the Courier-Journal and the good people of Louisville in the Grant ovation matter, but it is also true that because of the political caste of the Grant programme they are opposed to such ovations.

The Democracy of Kentucky, with the utmost confidence in the Courier-Journal, simply desire to give it a warning, something like the same mother's warning:

"Ephraim, come to your master, Mr. Trimble, what you bin?"

"Playin' wid de white folks' chil' un."

"You is, eh? See hyar, chile, you'll broke your old master's heart, an' bring her gray hairs in sorrow to do grave wid recklessness an' carryin' on wid evil assasinations. Hab'nt I raised you in de way you should oughter go?"

"E'yethum."

"Hab'nt I rezeend wid you and prayed wid, and deplored, do good Lord to wrap you up in His bosom?"

"Well, den, do you suppose I'se gwine to hab your m'ster rapped up de white trash? No, said. Get in this insp'c' if I eber catch you 'nummin' in' wid white trash any mo', to de Lord, nigger, I'll bress your black head wid a brick!"

The remedy for bad laws, or their unjust operations, is not to abandon all courts, &c., but to struggle for improvement.

So, indeed, in regard to our republican form of government, the remedy is not to swap it for a monarchy, but for each citizen to struggle for its improvement. The Exodus.
[Washington Letter to Detroit Free Press.]

I said at the beginning that this exodus business is of interest to the politicians. What I mean to say is that it is a purely political movement. The plan was concocted by the great Michigan Senator now dead, and is secretly being carried out by the Radical leaders. In addition to the plan to increase the Republican vote in certain Southern States, and second, to decrease the Southern population in time to affect their representation in Congress when the apportionment is made after the census of 1880. It is a deplorable scheme, and is being carried out with marvelous tact and effectiveness. The plan was revealed to me over a year ago by a Radical statesman but I took little stock in his statement at that time.
